

STILL WORKING FOR WALL STREET.

Senator Sherman, the great goldbug, who has done more to shape the financial policy of the Government in the last quarter of a century than any other public man, says he can see no signs of a panic ahead of us, but he thinks there ought to be $100,000,000 in gold reserved for the redemption of outstanding Government notes.

As Government notes are redeemable in coin, a condition that is expressed in plain letters on their face, why not coin the silver bullion now stacked up in the Treasury vaults and when Government notes are presented for redemption pay a part of the amount in silver? Of course, Honest John Sherman would not please Wall Street by advocating such a measure, yet he was the author of the bill which makes Government notes redeemable in coin. Originally greenbacks or Government notes were redeemable in legal tender money of the United States. Then there was neither gold nor silver in the Treasury. In 1869 this self same Senator Sherman introduced and succeeded in passing through the Senate a bill to strengthen the public credit, though the credit of the Government was as strong as it well could be. This bill made greenbacks redeemable in coin, and it is so stated on their face. Then the scheme to demonetize silver had not been conceived and making greenbacks redeemable in silver coins strengthened the public credit. Now Honest John, in the interest of London and New York gold men will not have greenbacks redeemed with silver if he can possibly prevent it, and unfortunately there are a large number of prominent Republicans and Democrats who are imbued with his Wall Street ideas and uphold him in his advocacy of a single standard.

WHEAT AND CORN.

The Agricultural Department at Washington estimates the proportion of wheat on hand at a fraction over 26 per cent. of the last crop, the smallest in ten years. The quantity aggregates 135,000,000 bushels, 36,000,000 less than in March, 1892. A very large proportion of this is found in the States that do not spare a bushel for commercial distribution. There are 34,000,000 bushels in the principal Spring wheat States, more than half of which is required for seed. Of Winter wheat only Kansas and California have any considerable surplus available for commercial distribution.

The corn on hand is estimated at 630,847,870 bushels, or 38 1/2 per cent. of the product of the last year. This proportion has been exceeded in March four times in the last ten years and the quantity has been exceeded five times.

The quantity of wheat and corn on hand shows that the low price of these products is not due to over-production. The prices are controlled by silver, as all commodities are shown to share the fate of that metal. When silver goes up the price of wheat, cotton and corn advance with it, and when it goes down, the prices of farm products, save in exceptional cases when there is a scarcity of a particular article, sink with it.

INGALLS OPPOSES D TO ANNEXATION.

Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas, who acquired the distinguishing title of the "Gall and worn-out man," because of his sarcasm, is opposed to the annexation of the Sandwich Islands. At Atchison, Kansas, he said he is glad to see President Cleveland exercise sound sense in regard to Hawaiian affairs by drawing the annexation treaty. He expressed the hope that the President will keep the treaty in his trousers pocket. "To take to a lot of valueless land that we would have to fortify and worry about," said Mr. Ingalls, "would be contrary to the principles and traditions of the Government. The Hawaiian treaty was a great blunder. Cleveland ought to send a delegation to Hawaii to ascertain the needs of the people and to see to what extent sugar plantations are responsible for the revolution."

THE SITUATION IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Money is piling up in San Francisco savings banks and the number of banks is being increased. There is an abundance of money in the city, but it is being deposited in the banks instead of being put in circulation. The Mining Press says those who have money are disinclined to invest it and, as a consequence, trade and commerce languish. There is a lack of enterprise that is greatly to be deplored. With over $100,000,000 hoarded in the banks, business is stagnant and times dull. There are thousands of unemployed people in the city, and their complaints are beginning to be heard. The disinclination of capitalists to engage in new enterprises is paralyzing business, and thousands who are able and willing to work cannot find employment.

The Washington Legislature balloted 101 times for United States Senator and then adjourned sine die without electing one. The fight was between Allen and Turner, both Republicans. It is thought Allen will be appointed by the Governor to succeed himself. This is the third instance in which Legislatures failed to elect Senators this year, the others being Montana and Wyoming.

Matters of Interest From Home and Abroad.

A HORDE OF OFFICE-SEEKERS.

Ten Years' Imprisonment for Illegal Registration.

TIMBER PERMITS REVOKED.

Office-Seekers.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Undeterred by the non-appointment rule, Colonel Childs, ex-Minister to Spain, asked the President to send him back to the land of the white elephant.

Chief Justice Lorton of the Tennessee Supreme Court, wants to succeed to the Circuit Court vacancy caused by the promotion of Justice Jackson to the Supreme bench.

G. W. Carruth, editor of the Little Rock Gazette, presented his application for the position of Minister to Turkey.

Another Arkansas applicant, Judge Morgan, is after the South American consulate.

Another applicant for his former position has appeared in ex-Minister Buck of Kentucky, who had the Peruvian mission during the first Cleveland term.

L. C. Christy, a colored man and editor of the Indianapolis World, is an applicant for appointment as Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia.

J. Milton Turner of Missouri and O. H. Taylor of Kansas City, both colored men, are also applicants for this office.

The President is giving careful attention to the appointment of Public Printer. It is learned to-day that he thinks there is need of reorganization in the bureau, and wants to appoint a broad-gauge man of more than usual ability as the executive—one who can put the Government Printing Office on a more strictly business basis.

The Big Boston Fire.

Boston, March 11.—The three greatest fires in Boston's history, those of 1872, 1889 and 1893 were rung from the same box, 52. At this hour, 9 A. M., no change is warranted in the estimates of the loss and insurance. It was learned this afternoon that Harry Turner, aged 13, and Lewis Buck, aged 19, employees of the Jaqueth Rubber Co., are missing. They were at work on the fifth floor of the building and their bodies are probably in the ruins. The body of Chas. Osborne, a traveling salesman of Redpath Bros., is also probably in the ruins. A thorough search was made in all the hospitals and morgues, but no trace of him can be found. T. B. Fitz, a member of the firm of Brown, Durrell & Co., says the stock which was not burned is of such a nature as to be easily injured by water and smoke so they have nothing left but the insurance. He thinks it will take $1,200,000 to make them whole.

Kansas Matters.

TOPEKA, March 11.—The House last night passed the Senate legislative appropriation bill which provides for the payment of the late Danmore House employees. Twenty-three Republicans voted for the bill with the Populists. The Senate announced that unless the House passed the bill no further appropriation of any character would be passed, thus threatening to stop a number of State institutions, and it is brought the Republicans to time. An Australian ballot bill, as amended, by the House, passed the Senate to-day. The amendment is particularly objectionable to the Democrats, as it prohibits the appointment of judges of elections from any party which failed with another party at the next preceding election. This practically prohibits Democrats from acting on election boards at the next election.

The Permits Revoked.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary Hoke Smith to-day revoked and canceled the permits which were issued February 12th last to the Blackfoot Milling Company and Bitter Root Development Company, of Missoula county, Montana, to cut 50 per cent. of the timber on the public lands in that county. Secretary Smith holds strongly to the opinion that granting such extensive timber cutting privileges was against public interests and would, if continued, speedily result in the total destruction of the forests of the West.

His action in this matter, however, was hastened by the receipt of information of fraud practiced in obtaining the permits.

Resolutions of Respect.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A meeting of the bar of the Supreme Court convened to the court-room to-day to take steps to express the loss sustained in the death of Justice Lamar was attended by a large and distinguished gathering. Vice President Stevenson called the meeting to order. Senator Vilas was elected Chairman and James F. McConney, Clerk of the Court, was chosen Secretary. Senator George in a brief speech moved the appointment of a committee to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the loss of the bar at the death of the late Justice. The meeting adjourned until Saturday at noon when the resolutions will be presented.

Ten Years for Illegal Registration.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Judge Donnell to-day sentenced to ten years' imprisonment G. W. Waite, convicted of illegal registration at the last election.

A Disgraceful Jangle.

GUTHRIE (I. T.), March 11.—The Territorial Legislature closed yesterday amid scenes disgraceful in the extreme. During most of the sixty days' session the principal occupation engaged in by the legislators has been quarreling.

In the hurry and heat of the closing days it is said that much of the legislation passed is so badly jumbled that the Territory is worse off than it was before.

During an attempt to repeal the anti-gambling bill yesterday pandemonium reigned supreme. Members called each other liars and at times almost came to blows. Charges of bribery were openly made, and enough was disclosed, it is asserted, to show that certain members had openly sold their votes.

Judgment for Defendant.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—In the matter of the suit brought by Oscar Steele against M. W. Fox and others, involving the deal between the Andes mine and the West Con. Virginia, Judge Slack to-day gave judgment for plaintiffs. In their answer to Steele's complaint the defendants admitted that he was entitled to 23,190 shares of the West Con. Va. capital stock, and this amount of stock was awarded to Steele by Judge Slack.

Bad News for Office Seekers.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary Morton to-day indicated his purpose of retaining efficient employees in the Department without regard to politics. When changes become necessary he will recognize the claims of party workers only in cases where an efficient candidate is equal if not superior to that of the incumbent.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The forecast for Nevada is occasional rain or snow and warmer in the northern portion, followed by clearing weather Sunday.

A SALT LAKE dispatch says hopes are still entertained that the San Francisco and Salt Lake railroad will be built. A. C. Cleveland, who was in the city a few days ago, is of the opinion that the back set given the enterprise is only temporary, and that before another year has passed work will have begun on the road. The State of Nevada offers a bonus of $3,000 for every mile of the road completed within its boundaries.

A Balmwaker to Be Depended Upon.

Frederick W. Root is a good deal of a hoodoo. He gracefully acknowledges the charge himself. It is a singular fact that whenever he appears to deliver a lecture the rain begins to fall. He is so good a rain producer that he has seriously considered the idea of utilizing his talents for that purpose in the arid regions of the west.

While at Silver Lake Assembly, in New York state, he delivered a lecture on medical tactics to a kindred subject. He had delivered the same lecture a half dozen times in the west, and the refreshing shower came along each time before he had half finished it.

But when he reached the Silver Lake Assembly grounds the sky was bright, and Mr. Root congratulated himself upon having shaken off his evil spirit. He mounted the rostrum, cleared his throat, and when he had got as far as "Friends and fellow citizens" the rumble of distant thunder grated harshly upon his ears. Yet he gathered up his courage and went on, and before he had delivered a quarter of his lecture the rain came down in torrents.

"Indeed," said Mr. Root, "I never saw it rain so hard before." After the lecture a witty young Chicago woman who knew of the hoodoo business suggested for the convenience of the public, that next year Mr. Root should write a lecture upon a dry subject.—Chicago Post.

Burial Customs in Kentucky. In the mountains of Kentucky when a husband dies his funeral sermon is not preached until after the death of the wife, nor that of a wife until the husband also is dead. Then a preacher is sent for, friends and neighbors are called in, and the respect is paid to both together.

More peculiar is the custom of having the services for one person repeated, so that the dead get their "funerals" preached several times months and years after their burial. I heard the pitiful story of two sisters who had their mother's "funeral" preached once every summer as long as they lived.

In strange contrast with this regard for ceremonial observances is their neglect of the graves of their beloved, which they do not seem at all to visit when once closed or to decorate with those symbols of affection which are the common indications of bereavement.—Blue Grass Region of Kentucky.

Photography and Medical Diagnosis.

It seems there must be added to the already numerous applications of photography that of an agent in medical diagnosis. A Berlin lady was having her photograph taken. The face in the first negative came out covered with spots. Examination showing nothing abnormal in the sitter; a second was taken with the same result, so it could not be the fault of the plates. What was it? In a week the poor woman died of smallpox. The cleverest physician could have perceived nothing, but the sensitive film of the photographic plate had detected an actinic alteration of the skin where the poxles were to develop.—London Tit-Bits.

Politicians and Rent.

The reason why it is the custom for an inquiring person in a New York tenement house to interrogate the residents of the top floor first is because he receives plenty of police attention, whereas if one begins at the lower floor and proceeds upward, he will get short answers and little satisfaction. The top floor tenants pay the smallest rents.—New York Sun.

Boxes in the Far North.

Lieutenant Peary, the arctic explorer, saw bumtibeas as far north as latitude 81 degs. 57 mins. in Greenland, and stated that bluebottle flies were as common there as far north as they are in Philadelphia around a butcher shop. The last mentioned is within about 500 miles of the north pole.—Entomological News.

Spellbound. The eighty-five teachers in the public schools of Lockport had a spelling contest the other day, to the great delight of their pupils, because some of the teachers did not altogether cover themselves with glory. Of the eighty-five only five spelled "Rensselaer" correctly, and 74 per cent. of the whole number misspelled "acknowledgment." All of the following words were wrongly spelled by more than half of the teachers, and several of them by more than fifty: "Supersede," "resuscitative," "excellence," "benefit," "business," "medal," "maintenance," "milliner," "pretensions," "gascons" and "concede." The name "Genesee" is said to have caught a good many victims.—Boston Journal.

An Important Question.

On the night of the big Twenty-third street fire Dr. Buddington, anxious to get home and not knowing any reason why he should not do so, pushed his way through the crowd. A policeman ordered him back, and on his failing at once to obey knocked him down. Dr. Buddington, under the influence of the stinging blows, struck the policeman and was at once handcuffed and taken to the station house. The question which suggests itself is, How long must an orderly and law-abiding citizen stand being clubbed by a policeman before he has a right to defend himself?—New York Herald.

Toothpicks Again.

Toothpicks are to be allowed on the dinner tables, contrary to English rule. A well known society leader who recently paid a visit to London says she heard her hostess remark one day that she would as soon pass around toothbrushes and towels as toothpicks to her guests.—New York Advertiser.

NEW LAWS.

Election of United States Senators.
Approved February 15, 1893.

WHEREAS, It is expedient that the wishes of the people of this State upon the subject of the election of United States Senators should be unmistakably expressed; therefore,

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That thirty days prior to the next general State election the Governor shall issue his proclamation calling upon the electors to signify at said election their will as to the method of the election of United States Senators, by placing upon the ballots the words "For the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people," or the words "Against the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people;" and the Inspectors and Judges of election at each and every poll in the State, shall ascertain and make returns for the number of votes cast "For the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people," and the number of votes cast "Against the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people," in like manner as other votes are required to be counted and returned, and an abstract thereof shall be transmitted by each County Clerk in the State to the Secretary of State in the same manner that votes for State officers are now required to be transmitted.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State shall make a complete abstract of the votes given at said election, and certify the same to the Governor.

SEC. 3. The Governor shall prepare a memorial from the people of the State of Nevada, attested by the Secretary of State with the Great Seal of State attached, setting forth in brief the question submitted to the electors, and the vote thereon, and send copies thereof to the President and Vice President of the United States, to each Cabinet Minister, Senator, Member of the House of Representatives and the Governor of each State and Territory in the United States of America.

INCORPORATING THE GRAND LODGE OF BENEVOLENT BROTHERS OF THE STATE OF NEVADA.

Approved March 4, 1893.

SECTION 1. The Grand Lodge of the Benevolent Brother of the State of Nevada, and its subordinate lodges, shall be deemed bodies corporate and politic; the Grand Lodge from the date of its organization and the lodges subordinate thereto, from the date of their charters from the Grand Lodge.

SEC. 2. All the provisions contained in an Act entitled "An Act to incorporate the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and their subordinate lodges in this State," approved March 3, 1895, and in an Act amendatory thereof March 11, 1897, are hereby made applicable to the incorporation of the Grand Lodge of Benevolent Brother of the State of Nevada and its subordinate lodges.

AMENDMENT TO THE ACT TO RESTRICT GAMING.

Approved February 23, 1893.

SECTION 1. Section seven of said Act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section seven. The licensee shall not carry on his game in any front room on the first or ground floor of any building, and if any person carrying on any of said games shall knowingly permit to enter or remain in any licensed room any person under the age of twenty-one years, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by the same penalties, for violation of its provisions, as are prescribed in section one of this Act.

AUTHORIZING THE KILLING OF UNBRANDED STALLIONS.

Approved February 17, 1893.

SECTION 1. Any person or persons are hereby authorized, and it shall be lawful for him or them to kill any wild, unbranded stallion found running at large on any of the Government range lands in the State of Nevada.

WHAT THE MINER WANTS.

The Mining and Scientific Press has the following on what the miner wants:

He wants a "fall-a-out" of teeth for the "mouth of the tunnel," and a girl of experience to paint and powder the "face of the drift."

He wants a four-in-hand tie for the "collar of the shaft," and a boot for the "foot of the incline."

He needs a jockey who can ride a "porphyry horse" and use the "spur of the ledge" on a "bucking donkey" (pump) and "drive a crosscut."

He wants an "expert" burglar to "tap the ledge," a detective to "follow the vein," and a watchman to guard the "silver plate."

He wants a hat that will fit a "head of water," and a man who can wear the "cap of a tunnel-set."

He wants a soldier who has been "drilled" to handle a "gun," and to "shoot" and work a "cattery," also, a painter who can distinguish a "color."

He wants a "square set" of men to work for him, some feed for his "graff," a bird for the "cage," a hunter to hunt for a "gopher," and a "grizzly" and a sprinter to "run a drift" against time.

He wants a tidy man to put an "apron" on and "clean up" the mill, sweep up the "dust" and "wash dirt."

He also would like to have the Government furnish him with "stamps" free of charge.

He wants the "roof of the drift" shingled with $20 pieces.

And when he "dies" he wants to go to the "upper level" and play on a silver "horn" and have his "slapjacks" baked in a "gold pan."

ST. PATRICK'S BALL.

Company C, N. N. G., will give a grand ball on the night of the 17th inst., (St. Patrick's Day). The best music obtainable has been secured for the occasion, the price of admission will be $1, not 50 cents, as erroneously published last evening.

CLEVELAND AND STANFORD.

The Senator to Be Consulted in Distributing the Patronage.

A dispatch to the San Francisco Examiner from the national capital says: Senator Stanford drew up at the White House this morning and was seen by President Cleveland, who sent word for him to come upstairs by the private elevator.

When Stanford entered the President's room there was a crowd of prominent Democratic Senators there, including Bates of Tennessee, Turpie of Indiana, Jones of Arkansas and Voorhees of Indiana.

The President left them to greet Stanford, calling him by name. Stanford said: "I hardly thought you would remember me."

The President smiled and said: "I never think of California without you coming into my mind, and that is not to be wondered at, considering the large part you have taken in the development of the State."

Stanford thanked him, and Cleveland continued in a hearty way: "What can I do for you, Governor? What do you want?"

"Oh, I only called to pay my respects, Mr. President," replied Senator Stanford. "I drove up here twice before, but both times I noticed you were besieged and did not wish to add to your troubles. I do not doubt you will find a large number of gentlemen from California presented for your consideration who are first class men [with a smile], if they are Democrats. Two-thirds of the candidates, judging from the names I see in the newspapers, are men competent to fill any position, and any selection from them will insure a first-class public service. Of course, I would not obtrude on such a subject, for I do not consider that I am in at this time."

ASKED STANFORD'S ADVICE.

Then President Cleveland did something that sent a thrill of terror through several Democratic souls. He placed his arm around Stanford's shoulder, and said in a voice heard all over the room: "Governor, there is no man in California for whose judgment I have a higher respect than yourself, and no man whose opinion on candidates from California I would so highly esteem."

Senator Stanford thanked the President, and said:

"As that is your feeling, I shall be pleased to be at your service at all times, and to give you any information you desire, whether personally or by telegraph or mail. Call on me at any time and you will find me ready to serve you."

Cleveland is notorious for not flattering any one, and his remark to Stanford must have been made in good faith. It was so accepted by those who heard it, and Stanford's mail will now be filled with petitions from office-seekers. But they will only be wasting their stamps, for Stanford will not sign any petitions, and will wait until he is asked. As this is likely to happen if there is a deadlock in the delegation, the importance of harmony is discernible even by blind politicians.

HE WANTED A TURKISH BATH.

The joke is decidedly on Judge Lockett of Henderson. He was in the city yesterday, and, passing down by the People's Theater, his eye fell upon a poster in the window advertising "A Turkish Bath," the play to be produced at that theater that night.

A Turkish bath was just what the Judge wanted. He couldn't get such an accommodation in Henderson, and his heart jumped as he contemplated the pleasures that he fancied were in store for him. He entered the box office door, and, according to Billy Rosenoraz, said:

"I should like to see your bathroom, sir."

"What's that?" said Billy, who failed to comprehend.

"The bathroom—bathroom," repeated the Judge.

Just then Joe Burk, assistant manager of the house, walked into the office, and Rosenoraz turned the stranger over to him.

"I want to see your Turkish bathroom," said the Judge. "I want a bath."

"We have no Turkish bathroom," said Joe in a surprised tone.

"You haven't?" shrieked the Judge.

"No, sir."

"Then what in the devil have you got that advertisement in your window for?"

"Why, my good sir," said Joe, pleadingly, "this is a theater, and that is an advertisement for a play that will appear at this house to-morrow night. The name of the piece is 'A Turkish Bath.' Do you see?"

The Judge saw, and that's all he did do. He spoke never a word, and with a look as if he had been sold for a cent he buttoned up his overcoat and left the office. —Evanville (Ind.) Tribune.

HIS WORTH RECOGNIZED.

Mr. Foote fully deserved the large audience that was present last evening to witness his production of "Othello," and the largely increased attendance on a night when there was so much other amusement afforded our people was a deserved compliment to the young Thespian. So much has been said about the acting of Mr. Foote and Miss Plunkett that it is but a waste of words to add to their praise. While it was thought that the acting of the two in plays heretofore produced was simply perfection, that of last night eclipsed all former efforts, and the support could not have been better. Mr. Foote is a young man, being but 32 years of age, but his efforts in the production of Shakespearean plays will surpass those of older heads. He has a great future in store for him.

The company depart from Reno this morning, and carry with them the good wishes of our people, and when they return crowded houses will greet them.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

Lovers of Good Vocal Music Enjoyed a Fine Treat.

Those who appreciate sweet sounds enjoyed a rare treat at the concert given at the Baptist Church last night. In addition to the other attractions on the program, Miss D'Arville, the prima donna and Miss Flora Finlayson, the contralto of the Bostonian Opera Company, two of the most noted female vocalists in the United States, sang some of their sweetest melodies, enravishing their hearers with the music of their voices.

The audience was large, the church being crowded. There were selections by the orchestra; quartets by Messdames Porter and Lee, and Messrs. Porter and Evans; solo by Miss Mabel Stanaway; solo by Miss Flora Finlayson; and by Mrs. J. P. Porter, solo by Miss Camille D'Arville, and duet by Miss D'Arville and Miss Finlayson. All were good but the duet was simply enrapturing and the audience dispersed satisfied that they had been afforded the greatest musical treat of the season.

Women and Dogs, Etc.

In the late Montagu Williams' book, "Around London," there is a striking testimony to the truth of an old saying concerning women. "If any one," said Mr. Williams, "has doubts as to the brutalities practiced on women by men, let him visit the London hospital on a Saturday night. Very terrible sights will meet his eye. Sometimes as many as twelve or fourteen women may be seen seated in the receiving room waiting for their bruised and bleeding faces and bodies to be attended to. In nine cases out of ten the injuries have been inflicted by brutal husbands. The nurses tell me, however, that any remarks they may make reflecting on the aggressors are received with great indignation by the wretched sufferers. They positively will not hear a single word against the cowardly ruffians."

"Sometimes," said a nurse to me, when I have told a woman that her husband is a brute, she has drawn herself up and replied: "You mind your own business, miss. We find the rules and taxes, and the likes of you are paid out of 'em to wait on us.'"

Lecturing to Royal Children.

Of the first lesson given to the royal children Mr. Hart says that when the professor (Sir Richard Owen) first arrived at Windsor castle he inquired where he should hang up his diagrams, as these lectures were to be given in the white drawing room, the walls of which were covered with white satin. The answer was that he was to do exactly as he pleased. The gentleman in waiting was therefore of opinion that he should pin the drawings upon the white satin hangings, but this the professor declined to do, and thereupon requested to be led to the laundry of the castle, to the blank amazement of the official. When he arrived there he picked out the largest clotheshorse he could find, and, having procured some green balize, rigged up an improvised stand, which showed off his diagrams to the best advantage. —London Globe.

A Daring Gunner.

My battery participated in the battle of Pea Ridge on March 6, 7 and 8, 1863. Thomas Davis, a private, acting as No. 4 at one of the guns, leaped upon his gun, and stretching himself out at full length amid a perfect storm of shell and shrapnel and musket balls shouted to the enemy, who were in line of battle a short distance away, "Send one of your men over, and I will fight him single handed and settle this picnic." He remained there shouting till the battery was ordered to fall back for ammunition. Davis never received a scratch.—L. J. White in New York Press.

A Novel Diving Bell.

Archibald Price, one of the pioneer settlers of Kanawha valley, West Virginia, was making maple sugar in a grove across the river from his house, when he caught sight of three Indians skulking in the vicinity. "The varmints," he said to himself. "So they mean to pounce on me when I've two pails of sap aboard."

He was just starting for some of the more distant trees. Of course he changed his purpose on the instant, but he was quick witted enough to give no sign of the fact, and for a few moments busied himself about the boiling plants, whistling merrily.

If he set off across the river in his canoe, the Indians would pursue him, he had a brother who was a sea diver. From him he had learned something about diving bells, and he now took a sudden resolve to make his ketcher out of him in that capacity. He hurried it, but in such a way that an observer at a little distance would have supposed he was filling it from a tub standing near.

As soon as it was emptied he lifted it quickly, and hurried down the river bank, where he raised it, in an inverted position, over his head, the rim resting on his shoulders, and walked into the water. The bank was steep, and the water was soon up to his shoulders.

Keeping a firm hold of the kettle, he proceeded. The water got deeper and deeper until it was several feet over the top of the little bell.

The improvised diving bell answered its purpose excellently, supplying air for him to breathe until he emerged on the home side of the river.

So Mr. Price saved himself and his iron kettle from falling into the hands of the savages. —Youth's Companion.

The Rise and Fall of Families.

A family, like a race or a nation, does indeed bud, flower and run to seed, and the seed must be transplanted to new soil in order to bud and flower again. Now a part of the foolish ancestorship of the past resulted in the foundation of aristocracies. We are getting wiser and better. We are putting our aristocracies closer to the primal source. We are learning no longer to respect a man because his ancestor was better than himself, but because he himself is an ancestor. The farce of royalty is played out; the farce of rank and caste is in a moribund condition. All men will soon learn to laugh at the claims of low descent. Many men laugh at them now. And this in itself is an immense step in advance.

Snobbery, vulgarity, pretension—these hideous traits will soon be of the past. Our grandchildren, freed from the absurd ideas, the absurd restrictions of aristocracy, will be larger, more generous, more tolerant, better, in short, than ourselves. Fresh and vigorous blood will intermix with the worn out descendants of great men, and in one time greater men from the stock will be born to the future. Every succeeding age sees the abandonment of some superstition which has checked the progress and development of the race in the past. —William S. Walsh in New York World.

A New Photographic Process.

An effective and greatly simplified method of producing a photographic representation in the form of an intaglio engraving, or, as it is generally called, a "photogravure," is being introduced. The time occupied in the process, which usually takes many days to a few hours, and to dispense entirely with the supplementary aid of the skillful engraver. Its essential feature lies in the fact that the picture, instead of being obtained from a graduated depth of the engraving, is produced from a sunken surface of uniform depth, the gradations of light, half tone and shade being effected by minute lines and stipples of varying thickness, but of uniform distance apart from center to center.

The picture is made up of equidistant stipples, varying from a microscopic point up to a size where they coalesce into a solid black, the half tones consisting of stipples about 1-400th of an inch in diameter. If a coarse stipple is used the effect varies from that of mezzotint and approaches more nearly that of a line of engraving, the light shades being made up of perceptible lines and stipples, like the effects of a steel or copper plate engraving of equal texture. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Comparison of Birth Rates.

There are 38,000,000 people in France, and during the last five years the increase in population has only been 124,000. In 55 departments out of a total of 90 there is actually a diminution. It is not due to any high average of deaths, although infant mortality is higher than it should be. It is due to the small number of children born. The average birth rate has fallen to 21 or 22 per 1,000 inhabitants. This is a phenomenal low rate when contrasted with 28 to 30 in Germany, 35 or 36 in Italy, 30 in England and 30 in Switzerland. The percentage is lower in France than in any other country; and that there is a rapid increase in rural countries and France remains stationary. —Chicago Herald.

A Monument to Loyola.

Ignatius Loyola's followers have erected a monument to his memory over the spot where the fortunes of war decided that Canada should be a free British country. "The Jesuits' Retreat" stands in the city of Quebec on the ground consecrated by the blood of English soldiers, and in front of it has been placed a colossal statue of the founder of the order. —Toronto Mail.

Troubles of the Prince of Wales.

The salary and emoluments of the Prince of Wales, who is to be about $200,000, would probably be enough for his private needs were he not put to so large an expense in performing royal and social obligations which should be undertaken by his royal mother. —New York Press.
